 Cic Before the time of the Gracchi that is before the equites (knights) were raised above the common people the word plebs comprehended all the inhabitants of Rome and of the Roman state except the senate and so also the knights (equites) hence in Livy patres (i e the senate) and plebs are opposed to each other thus also populus (i e all the inhabitants including conse quently the senate) and plebs Liv but after the knights were raised to a separate order the plebs formed the third and lowest order and so came after the knights nostra Iiv N B Refert impersa see REFERT REFERT impersa has nothing to do with the personal verb referre but consists of the words re and fert written together (not compounded) as respublica consists of the two words res publica The phrase refert is alluded to another e re est and signifies properly as subsequi conduct it is conducive to one's interest (res) hence it concerns impersa &c It is used sometimes without a nominative (subject) sometimes with one which however is seldom any other than a pronoun quod id illud &c How much any thing concerns or imports is expressed by the adverbs magnopere nihil &c and especially by the genitives magni parvi quanti but the thing or person whom a matter concerns is sometimes found with ad rarely in a simple accusative or genitive hence we fre quently find the feminine ablatives mea, tua, sua, nostra vstra (with long a in the comedians) and cuja (for genitive cujus) e g magnopere referat id ipsum that very thing is of great importance Cic parvi referat abs te ius dici id magni referat quid &c id referat etiam qui audiant id quid referat utrum &c id quod tua nihil referat id mea minime r'fert Ter quod retulit? what has it profited? id multum referat quid & Quint illud permagni referre Ter tua quod nihil referat quicquid does not at all concern you id quanti id referat Cic quam ad rem utat referat? what purpose does it serve?

 Plaut quid id ad me referat? id what is that to me? quid te (for tu) retulit? id what was it to you? illorum magis quam ut referat Sall plurimum referat compositionis Quint i e in respect of we find also a dative cui referat? what purpose did it serve?
 Plaut As that which is of importance or concern is frequently put in the infinitive so referat is sometimes followed by ut instead of this infinitive Colum illud permagni referat ut &c Ter
