The Gardeners' Chronicle

The Gardeners' Chronicle is a monthly publication that provides advice and information on gardening. This particular issue is dated May 26, 1885, and contains articles on various gardening topics, including climate, flowers, and garden operations. The text is written in a formal, informative style typical of 19th-century periodicals. The document contains advertisements, garden tips, and illustrations related to gardening practices of the time.