Bob Ridley, were some of the most remarkable. Mr. Cattell, of Westerham, was third with an excellent stand, in which he was noticed, Lord Derby, George Elliott, Cygnet, and Charlotte Doling.

In 24's Mr. Turner was also first with Criterion, George Elliott, Umpire, Mauve Queen, Middaylight, Mr. Holley, Theom, and John Wood, were all excellent, and of these Mr. Eyres was second—Baron Taunton, Anna Keynes, King of Sweden, Leopard, Fanny Purchase, and John Wyatt, being some of the best; and Mr. Perkins, of Northampton, was third, his blooms being also good.

Mr. Legge, of Edmonton, Mr. Cattell, and Messrs. Garraway, of Durham Down, were also competitors.

In the Amateurs' Class of eighteen, Mr. Thorncroft, of Flore, near Weedon, was first, with some very fine blooms of Norfolk Hero, John Dory, Cygnet, Mrs. Piggott, Hugh Miller, Juno, Lord Derby, Mrs. Henshaw, Volunteer, Mr. Volme's merits. Owing to the late heavy rains, however, many of the flowers had suffered somewhat, more especially those shown in the Amateurs' Class. Of Messrs. YOUNELL's collection Madame Vilminor, Ophir, Princess Clothilde, Napoleon III, Madame Rabourdin, Mazappa, and Plino were fine. Mr. Standish had Elina (a fine red), Imperatrice Eugenie, Mrs. Pilk's a stand with which Mr. F. H. M. B. and Misses W. and Misses B. had splendid stands, with the usual variety of cultivation, and of which an account will be found in the report of the Horticultural Committee. There were also extensive collections from both the above exhibitors, which, though not for competition, were very interesting. Mr. Prince, of Oxford, had third prize. Langevins, Mr. N. J. Chassell, Le Poussin, Renbrandt, Madame Basselle, and Fanny Rouget were those shown best. Mr. Cattell had also good spikes. Among Amateurs Mr. Sladden, Mr. Perry, and the Rev. H. Dombrain were the successful competitors, ranking them in the order in which they are named. In their stands were good spikes of Prospero. Calypso, Le Poussin, Sappho, Jeanne d'Arc, Victor Verdier (small, but fine in colour), Endymion, and Bridesmaid.

Miscellaneous.—Verbenas were shown in excellent condition by Messrs. Perkins & Son, and Mr. Perry, of Castle Browning, who received first and second prizes; fine large trusses of Phloxes by Mr. Turner, of Slough; several boxes of Roses in good condition by Messrs. Paul & Son, and some excellent Aster by pots by Messrs. Cutbush. From Messrs. Veitch came the beautiful sweet-scented Lilium auratum, the curious scarlet Anthurium Scherzerianum, the fine fringed-flowered Datura ferox variegata, Odontoglossum grande, the beautiful white flowered orchid, and other plants, which were submitted to the Floral Committee. Mr. Bull had likewise an extensive group of new and rare plants, among which were Gesneria Radiacny, with highly ornamental foliage, some new arborescent Begonias, Adiantum radicans, and the beautiful Madonna lilies, elegans, Doronicum, and several other Gardenias. Messrs. A. Henderson had the Cotton-plant in pod; Mr. Salter, variegated plants for ribbon-borders; and Messrs. E. G. Henderson, a collection of Ires and variegated Geraniums; whilst Messrs. Carter & Co. had excellent double Zinnias, French Marigolds, Asters, and Exaltations.

The following remarks on the Gladioli and Roses exhibited, are from our valued contributor, "D., Deal:—"

[Notwithstanding the prevalence of disease throughout the Gladiolus, the stands exhibited were of surpassing excellence, and it was evident that it could not have affected those growers whose magnificent spikes of bloom and luxuriant foliage displayed the very perfection of vigour and growth. The positions of the two great combatants in the Nurserymen's Class were the reverse of that at the Crystal Palace Show, Messrs. Youell being first, and Mr. Standish second. The spikes of bloom exhibited by the former were in variety and quality Mr. Standish's were unquestionably the best. He had besides several boxes of blooms, which made a grand display. Amongst the most conspicuous of his flowers were—Ganymede, a fine flower in the style of Poussin; Mrs. Bix, white, of good substance; Lord Clyde, a large and very fine flower; Elina, glowing red; Charles Davis, beautiful crimson with white feathers; George Stephenson, claret, a novel shade of colour; Princess Alexandra, a very novel flower, creamy buff, crimson feather, almost of the colour of a Dendrobium; Raunds Jack, light pink splashed with carmine, deep crimson feather; Beodoms, green, red; Charles Davis, beautiful crimson with white feathers; Edith Dombrain, soft salmon, splashed with deeper shade; Demosthenes, fine shape; Euterpe, white, with violet feathers; Roscas, red, with violet lip; Pollux, cream, with dark red blotch; Mr. Marmock, cherry red; Aurelian, very bright crimson; Margaret, fine white; La Belle, beautiful soft pink; Mrs. Peach, peach, with deep crimson markings; and Mrs. Dombrain, a beautiful flower, something like Imperatrice Eugenie, but better. In Messrs. Youell's were some fine blooms of Achille, Madame Vilminor, Ophir, Orleans, Madame Lune, Mase, Plino, Ophir, and other well-known French kinds admirably Bloomed. The same may be said of Mr. Prince's flowers, and of Mr. Cattell's, who had some promising seedlings.

In the Amateurs' Class, Mr. Sladden, of Ash-next-Sandwich, was first with seedlings Cleopatra, Hector, Volunteer, Prospero, Philip Van Artevelde, Sappho, Lord Clyde, Poussin, Adonis, Fanny Rouget, Madame Breed, Couranti fulgens. His stand was very effective and excellently Bloomed. Mr. Perry, of Castle Browning, was second with Jeanne d'Arc, Sulphureus, Calypso, Lord Louis, Madame Lune, Madame White, Amelie, Janine, and Premier de Montrebourg. The Rev. H. H. Dombrain was third with Standish's Mrs. R. Hole, Earl of Carlisle, Mrs. Dombrain (fine), Viola, Marian, Mrs. Livingstone, and Lemonade; seedlings Lord Waterden, Orange Boven, and Bridesmaid, and Victor Verdier and Enigma on.
