ac., so that any person who cultivates this plant for 20 years will get stock to several acres of land. There is a market for pot-herbs, which is a reason for not being scrupulous over verifying our assertions, and the enjoyment of flower lawns in their winter gardens.

Correa Labradae (see p. 731).—The proper name of this plant is "Correa Labradae" and not "Correa labradae," as stated by Mr. Pollock, "Botanist" (vol. 12, p. 132). It is a small shrub, with beautiful flowers, and not dilated. The plant seems to vary very much in the amount of the flowers it bears, but in the present instance there is no dilatation. I have seen the plant in flower, and the flowers are quite distinct.

The Lady Strawberry.—Last autumn I received from Mr. Underhill, of Birmingham, some plants of the strawberry which was very highly spoken of, and said to be a great improvement over our common strawberry. It has also produced a large crop of fruit; but I was quite disappointed at the result. The plants were sent to me, as I had no strawberries at all, and I was taken up with the idea of having the best strawberry plant for my own garden. The plants were sent by Mr. Underhill, of Birmingham, and I am very much obliged to him for the same. The strawberries have been very healthy, and I am sure that they will do well in my garden.

The Lady Strawberry is a new variety, and I am very much obliged to Mr. Underhill for the same. The plants have been very healthy, and I am sure that they will do well in my garden.
