

Uxbridge - Haddington Lane

Scotland - 17th June 1850

Sir

I beg leave to inform you that John Scott of the Botanical Gardens, Calcutta arrived home about three weeks ago and died & is buried in this obscure village what I wish you to know is he has left some plants & seeds, with many of your own writings, that any person here knows nothing about, if therefore you will send enough to make inquiry and come

As I had some person to look Over his affairs, he has left A sister with a small family And any thing which can be realized will be some benefit

Trusting to have your advice soon I am

Yours Truly

Chas. J. Scott

P. S. Son of Scott, Uncle

Thos Scott's death