Pithiest quotes survive, no matter their inaccuracy

By and about CHARLES DARWIN

- You can be wrong if you are right, and the opposite is true if you are wrong. -
- There is a certain nobility in being wrong, and the opposite is true if you are right.
- "I am a believer... I believe in truth, and if it is accepted by no one, it is a negation of the goodness of the world." -
- "We are the protectors of the earth... We are the protectors of the animals." -
- "No one is safe from being attacked... They all have some merit." -
- "I am a believer... I believe in truth, and if it is accepted by no one, it is a negation of the goodness of the world." -
- "We are the protectors of the earth... We are the protectors of the animals." -
- "There are few things in the world that I think I can do better than most people." -
- "I am a believer... I believe in truth, and if it is accepted by no one, it is a negation of the goodness of the world." -
- "We are the protectors of the earth... We are the protectors of the animals." -
- "There are few things in the world that I think I can do better than most people." -
- "I am a believer... I believe in truth, and if it is accepted by no one, it is a negation of the goodness of the world." -
- "We are the protectors of the earth... We are the protectors of the animals." -
- "There are few things in the world that I think I can do better than most people." -