PREFACE.

THE universally admitted want of a work of this sort, by breeders and owners of short-horned stock, is the best (and, it is hoped, a sufficient) apology for its publication.

Encouraged, as the Author has been, by a most respectable list of Subscribers, he has done his utmost to render his work as accurate as possible; nevertheless, from the novelty of the undertaking, and other causes, he is conscious, that (in this, his first edition of his work) there must, of necessity, be many inaccuracies: however, in future editions, he trusts, if his life is spared, he shall live long enough to rectify them himself, or to leave materials behind him to enable any other to execute that purpose.

And as this work, from its nature, must necessarily at a future time expand itself to a much larger size than it is at present ; it has been strongly recommended to the Author, (in the infancy of the work,) uniformly and regularly to use Abbreviations.

He therefore takes the earliest opportunity of informing his readers, that, feeling the weight and importance of this suggestion, he has complied with it, and has therefore regularly adopted the following abbreviations throughout the whole of his work.

d. uniformly means Dam.
g. d. . . . . Grandam.
gr. g. d. . . . . Great Grandam.
gr. gr. &c. . . . . Great Great, &c.

B. C. . . . . Bull Calf.

C. C. . . . . Cow Calf.

S. . . . . Steer, where the Author has been able to ascertain that a Bull Calf has been made a Steer.

The Author's present plan (if he continues to have health, and to enjoy the kind patronage of his present numerous Subscribers,) is to republish his work, with additions, every three or four years.

As it must be both the interest and the wish of every breeder to be enabled to breed with the greatest possible accuracy as to pedigrees, &c., therefore, to assist the Author in correcting errors in this work, he takes the liberty of recommending every breeder to have one of his works interleaved with plain paper, and on it to correct any errors he may discover, or make fresh entries as his stock increases; all which entries, (or a copy of them,) being sent by every breeder to the Author, immediately, (or at all events prior to the compilation of the next edition of this work,) will be an incalculable advantage to breeders at large, and to the Author in particular,—and for the receipt of them he will be most grateful.
