Oct. 18. 1875

My dear Sir

I have a chance which may never occur again:
 a wealthy friend of mine who is anxious to promote Reform to carry it into the hands of the land open to me the cost of starting a magazine

Having my name as conductor, + containing contributions of the Irish class. Each contributor is responsible only for his own article.

I enclose the Irish names of those whom we propose to write to help us. And earnestly beg you, if you was health & time, to send us a contribution for the first number which is to appear in January next.

I am to be nearly the contributor of the Voltaire article, and I intend to write in a moderate humiliating spirit
to win applause
among people who call

Thanking Religion.

Any payment of yours
will be most gratefully accepted. There is no time to be lost, as the "Copy" ought to be sent to the printer by the middle of November.

I do think what your name will do for me.

I remember it is an act of the highest charity.

Ever most truly Yrs
Charles Wesley
