OXFORD.

30 May

My dear Sir,

Observing that you are about to collect materials for a Biography of your lamented Father, I enclose seven notes of his to my uncle
the late Dr Hugh Falconer, in case they should prove of use.
The specimens alluded to in note of June 24 1861 was a living Proteus anguinus which he brought over from Adelsberg.

I value these letters
very much, so perhaps when you are quite done with them
you will kindly let me have them again - addressing

them to

21 Park Crescent

Portland Place

London N.W.

I only know of one more letter among
my uncle's papers
- in an autograph book
which I could copy
and send when we go there.

Mr Prestwich joins with me in every

expression of sympathy to your mother and all the family
and Believe me

Yours very truly
Grace A. Pestwich

Francis Darwin Esq.
