Bouvincourt

Sept. 6. 02

My dear Mr. Dicum

I have found one more note which I send you though there is little in it except an explanation of the cause of the white paper turning purple: though afterwards he said it was a penance to him all together.

The cheque alluded to was his annual payment shows how he worked towards the support of our society to the last. (within "People's" box in the orphanage eighteen months) for use at the Hospital Station; know that fairly well who was a grandson of to him, would by most Henry Button be considered very poor

But for the last sentence heath to stand working about his heath & with very kind regards work. I should not seem to Mr Darwin.

Thought it worth sending Believe me this to you - but that very sincerely yours J. H. Sullivan

After leaving you at South I was very I forgot to ask about your dear little

Child that I saw at Doreen -
