Dear Mrs. Darwin,

As I find you are in asking for any letters written by Mr Darwin, especially except in the Biography he is about to write, I send you three to be looked at.

The first relates to some stones
I sent from Brazil.

The second treats of a question I asked you to look at, for 131

Captain Boston, relating to state of health, in 1871 - illustrating entirely wrong, says in Iceland. the great feature of his services It also refers to that very pleasant, singularly steady & tenacious of obtaining much ^{of} enjoyed mind - that though long years in Danish street (D. Club) of suffering he could still go on, when I had the pleasure of I go on, doing so much! introducing Captain Boston. On the chance of either of these The third (which I should have letters being of direct or indirect made the second?) contains assistance I send them for an interesting paragraph as to your son's consideration, congratulating them with my best wishes for you & all your family, and with my kind regards to old.

I am Dear Mr Darwin
