

DARWIN MEMORIAL.—The following circular has been issued:—Royal Society, Burlington House, W.—Sir,—Though the works of Charles Darwin form his best and most enduring memorial, his many friends and admirers feel that these should not be his only monument. They are desirous of handing down to posterity the likeness of a man who has done so much for the advancement of natural knowledge, possibly in the form of a statue to be erected in some public place. They wish further, if possible, to establish a fund associated with his name, the proceeds of which will be devoted, in some way hereafter to be determined, to the furtherance of Biological Science. A committee has accordingly been formed (of which we enclose a list) with a view of raising funds for the above purpose. We trust that you will co-operate in this endeavour and add your name to the list of subscribers to the Darwin Memorial Fund.—We have the honour to remain; your obedient servants, T. G. Bonney and P. Edward Dove, honorary secretaries.—
